Private Peter Leighty, 20, member of headquarters battery, 18th field artillery at Fort Sill, was killed last night when struck by lightning during a storm. The troops were engaged in maneuvers at the time.

PARKS OF WEST

BRINGS TO REALIZATION AMBITION OF MANY YEARS' STANDING

CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS OF ST. PAUL AND MINNEAPOLIS EXTEND WELCOME

Washington, May 10.—(U.P.)—President Hoover's visit to the rugged National Parks of the west this summer will bring realization of an ambition of many years' standing. It was learned from one of his friends.

Several years ago, long before his presidential desires took definite political shape, Mr. Hoover and some of his associates were in the west. Then the secretary of commerce remarked a friend relates, that if he ever became president he would like to tour the National Parks.

The White House let it be known yesterday that Mr. Hoover will leave for the west about August 1, unless there are unexpected hindrances. He plans to visit in turn Glacier Park, the Yellowstone, Estes, Rocky Mountain and perhaps Zion and some of the smaller parks. He may stop off at the Grand Canyon on his return trip east.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—Enthusiastic over the prospects of seeing President Hoover when he goes on his vacation in the west this fall, civic organizations here and in Minneapolis today wired the president extending him the hospitality of the cities.

State officials, civic leaders and Fort Snelling army officers already are making plans for the president's visit although it is nearly four months away.

Greatly Strengthened

St. Paul, May 10.—(U.P.)—Minnesota state banks, savings banks and trust companies have materially strengthened their position in the three months and a half ending April 14. A. J. Veigel, state banking commissioner, announced today.

Comparing the condition of banks at the end of 1929 with their position in the middle of April, Veigel pointed out that the number of banks had dropped 29 to 761 through consolidation.

The average gain in deposits was $8,000 for each bank, despite a decline in the middle of April. Veigel pointed out at the end of 1929 to $387,508,000. The increase was caused by consolidations. The amount of mortgaged lands on the books of the banks has declined, indicating a healthy condition, Veigel said.

THIS FOLLOWS NEW POLICY OF

APPOINTEE

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 10.—A majority of the senate today was cautiously reserving judgment about President Hoover's latest selection for the supreme court bench, Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia.

A possible objection to Roberts' prohibition views is being hinted. However, the majority of democrats and independent republicans are neither supporting nor opposing the nominee until his full record can be dug up in accordance with the new policy of carefully scrutinizing every appointee to the bench.

In view of this situation, it is thought the senate judiciary committee on Monday will refer the nomination to a sub-committee for investigation.

Hints that Roberts might be opposed because of his prohibition views have been dropped by Senators Shepard, democrat, Texas, author of the eighteenth amendment, and Simmons, democrat, North Carolina, advocate of Prohibition.

While both the house and senate were in recess over the week-end, tariff conferees met today to accept a program already mapped out by the republican representatives of the two chambers.

The program calls for agreements on the disrupted tariff rates, but disagreement on the highly contested export debenture and flexible tariff amendments, with the understanding they will be returned to the senate for new votes before a decision is reached.

The course tentatively adopted by the republicans is to accept the senate's $150 tariff on soft wood lumber; reject the senate's 30 cents an ounce tariff on silver and reject the senate's provision for free entry of cement for public use.

SENATOR JOHNSON'S

SEVERE RESTRICTIONS IMPOSED
TO PREVENT COMMUNAL DISORDERS

IN INDIA, A COUNTRY ALREADY
WRECKED BY REVOLUTION-
ARY OUTBREAKS

By CECIL RICE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Lahore, India, May 10.—The Moslem celebration of the feast of Idul-zuha was held today under British restrictions, imposed to prevent communal disorders in a country already nerve-racked by revolutionary outbreaks.

The day, in the past, has been the occasion for fierce fighting between Moslems and Hindus, and British authorities feared the agitation arising from Mahatma Gandhi's drive for Indian independence might lead to serious disturbances.

The Moslems were asked to make their sacrifices of cows and goats, which the Hindus regard as sacred, within a definite area, and behind closed doors, to avoid offending the Hindus. The playing of music before the mosques also was forbidden.

Lahore was crowded with police, assembled to cope with any outbreaks that might arise despite the precautionary measures.

A favorable sign was seen in the orderliness of a meeting last night of 5,000 followers of Gandhi to protest against the arrest of Gopi Chand, former member of the Punjab legislative assembly.

The government here admitted that troops would occupy Peshawar, on the Afghan frontier, "for some time to come" to prevent a recurrence of rioting which two weeks ago caused a number of deaths there. Peshawar, because of its proximity to the wild Afghan tribes, has been a danger point in the British defense system since the independence movement started.

Should it be necessary to withdraw British troops from the Peshawar vicinity, there would be the danger of the Afghan tribes raiding the city.

The troops at Peshawar were ordered to withdraw from the city until 10 P. M. today, the government said, to permit a free observance of the Moslem festival.

GODDARD

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—(U.P.)—Accused of operating a dope peddling ring throughout the northwest, seven persons, one of them a woman, were to be arraigned today before Commissioner W. T. Goddard.

Climaxing three months' investigation, federal agents raided the Grand Hotel late yesterday and made the arrests. While the officers were on the second floor, Leslie Hawkins, alleged chief of the ring's activities, came up to the rooms with a book and his three year old nephew. Seeing a raid was in progress, he dashed upstairs to the third floor with the federal agents on his trail.

He attempted to throw the book and himself out of a window but the agents grabbed him. They said they found narcotics secreted between the pages of the book and held it was their prize testimony.

FEELER CALL FROM RUINS HAD

LAST NIGHT

St. Joseph, Mo., May 10.—(U.P.)—With the finding of three more bodies, and the death of one of the injured, the death toll of the blast that wrecked the Armour & Company plant stood at 18 today with all the missing located.

Hopes aroused during the closing hours of the search for the victims, that one man would be found alive, were dashed. A feeler call from the ruins electrified workers shortly before midnight.

Three hundred rescue workers frantically tore at the ruins. The voice, becoming more distinct, was believed to be that of George Roberts. Paul Roberts, a brother, called to him. A short distance away, Mrs. George Roberts was anxiously waiting, still confident that her husband was alive.

Rescue workers found the man who had been saved by a door which had fallen on him. When the debris was cleared away, the man was found to be Ora Paxson. Rushed to a hospital he lived only long enough to say good bye to his mother.

Another body was taken from the ruins early today. It was Frank Wiczorek. A short time later, Mrs. Flora Miller, one of the injured, died, bringing the total to 18.

MOB TAKES SUFFOCATED BODY

MILITIA REINFORCEMENTS FROM
DALLAS AND FORT WORTH
SUBDUED RIOTERS

Sherman, Texas, May 10.—(U.P.)—Comparative quiet was restored here today when militia reinforcements from Dallas and Fort Worth arrived to subdue rioters who for 15 hours terrorized the town after burning the Grayson county courthouse as a final resort in lynching a negro.

The town was virtually under martial law as 300 national guardsmen patrolled the streets.

Two members of the mob were in hospitals and four guardsmen were injured.

Thirteen men were lodged in the county jail today and charged with inciting and instigating mob violence. All are under 25 years of age. They were arrested by soldiers and peace officers today.

They are named on the docket as follows: Walter Spencer, Malcolm Clements, Charles Bateman, Ivan Bateman, W. E. Bateman, Earl Clements, W. L. Peters, Slim Jones, A. R. Goble, Earl O'Nary, J. E. McFarman, Jack Williams. J. W. Jeffrey was arrested this morning with half a stick of dynamite in his pocket.

The charred body of George Hughes, object of the lynching, who was suffocated in a vault where he was locked for safe keeping, was cut down from a cottonwood tree today. It was strung up after the mob had removed it from the vault and dragged it through the negro residential district, and a fire started under it.

The first detachment of guardsmen arrived here yesterday following rioting during the trial of George Hughes, 41-year-old negro charged with assaulting Mrs. Drew Farlow.

Hughes was roasted to death in a second floor vault of the courthouse yesterday when fire swept the structure. And then not content with the destruction of the courthouse and driving other negroes from town, the mob spent its energies attacking and harassing the guardsmen.

The guardsmen were attacked shortly after dusk when they were ordered to march to the courthouse to recover the body of Hughes. Ring-leaders of the rioting, unconvinced that Hughes was dead, recognized the move as an indication that Hughes was alive and that the troops were going to rescue him. They were driven back.

Shortly after midnight a deep-throated roar rose from the rioters crowded about the courthouse. They had succeeded in removing Hughes' body from the vault and had tied a rope around it. It was dragged down the street in front of the jail and finally through streets of the negro district.

After it had been burned, the mob—which suddenly had grown from 300 to more than 1,000—dispersed.

Sherman, Texas, May 10.—Troops patrolled streets of Sherman this afternoon to prevent further rioting begun yesterday when a mob burned the courthouse to put to death a negro accused of assault and then began hours of disorder in which four guardsmen and two mob members were injured. They sought to fire the negro quarters.

Thirteen alleged mob members were in jail today and investigation was begun by state authorities led by Governor Dan Moody who characterized the demonstration as "treason, arson, murder and wanton destruction of property." Alleged ring leaders will be held for the grand jury.

Soldiers recruited from Dallas will hold the town virtually under martial law today and tonight in the face of rumors that the mob, since dispersed, threatened to rally again tonight to burn homes, business buildings and the church in negro districts.

"Talk that an attempt would be made tonight to burn a negro church caused Col. L. E. McGee, commandant of the militiamen, to retain his guard," Mayor J. S. Subank said. Approximately 300 troops were on hand to maintain quiet.

The body of the negro, George Hughes, 41, who was taken from his trial on a charge of assaulting a woman to be locked in the courthouse vault, later fired and blasted, was cut down from a cottonwood tree today where it had been hung after the mob had bombed it from the vault and dragged it through the streets.

MOSLEM FEAST IS HELD UNDER BRITISH RULE

SEVERE RESTRICTIONS IMPOSED
TO PREVENT COMMUNAL DISORDERS

IN INDIA, A COUNTRY ALREADY
WRECKED BY REVOLUTION-
ARY OUTBREAKS

By CECIL RICE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Lahore, India, May 10.—The Moslem celebration of the feast of Idul-zuha was held today under British restrictions, imposed to prevent communal disorders in a country already nerve-racked by revolutionary outbreaks.

The day, in the past, has been the occasion for fierce fighting between Moslems and Hindus, and British authorities feared the agitation arising from Mahatma Gandhi's drive for Indian independence might lead to serious disturbances.

The Moslems were asked to make their sacrifices of cows and goats, which the Hindus regard as sacred, within a definite area, and behind closed doors, to avoid offending the Hindus. The playing of music before the mosques also was forbidden.

Lahore was crowded with police, assembled to cope with any outbreaks that might arise despite the precautionary measures.

A favorable sign was seen in the orderliness of a meeting last night of 5,000 followers of Gandhi to protest against the arrest of Gopi Chand, former member of the Punjab legislative assembly.

The government here admitted that troops would occupy Peshawar, on the Afghan frontier, "for some time to come" to prevent a recurrence of rioting which two weeks ago caused a number of deaths there. Peshawar, because of its proximity to the wild Afghan tribes, has been a danger point in the British defense system since the independence movement started.

Should it be necessary to withdraw British troops from the Peshawar vicinity, there would be the danger of the Afghan tribes raiding the city.

The troops at Peshawar were ordered to withdraw from the city until 10 P. M. today, the government said, to permit a free observance of the Moslem festival.

ACCUSED OF OPERATING DOPE PEDDLING RING

7 PERSONS, ONE OF THEM A WOMAN, NOW HELD IN ST. PAUL

TO BE ARRAIGNED BEFORE COM-MISSIONER W. T.
GODDARD

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—(U.P.)—Accused of operating a dope peddling ring throughout the northwest, seven persons, one of them a woman, were to be arraigned today before Commissioner W. T. Goddard.

Climaxing three months' investigation, federal agents raided the Grand Hotel late yesterday and made the arrests. While the officers were on the second floor, Leslie Hawkins, alleged chief of the ring's activities, came up to the rooms with a book and his three year old nephew. Seeing a raid was in progress, he dashed upstairs to the third floor with the federal agents on his trail.

He attempted to throw the book and himself out of a window but the agents grabbed him. They said they found narcotics secreted between the pages of the book and held it was their prize testimony.

McCULLOUGH THINKS SLAYER OF WARDEN WILL BE TAKEN

St. Paul, May 10.—(U.P.)—George W. McCullough, state game and fish commissioner, today said he believed the slayer of Norman D. Fairbanks, Sr., deputy game warden, eventually would be captured. He said he believed the man or men who shot the warden on April 24 had fled from the wooded sections around Grand Rapids, Minn., long before the man-hunt was organized this week when Fairbanks died Saturday.

DEATH TOLL AT THE ARMOUR CO. BLAST NOW 18

ALL THE MISSING HAVE BEEN LOCATED IN ST. JOSEPH, MO., FIRE

FEEBLE CALL FROM RUINS HAD BEEN HEARD AT MIDNIGHT
LAST NIGHT

St. Joseph, Mo., May 10.—(U.P.)—With the finding of three more bodies, and the death of one of the injured, the death toll of the blast that wrecked the Armour & Company plant stood at 18 today with all the missing located.

Hopes aroused during the closing hours of the search for the victims, that one man would be found alive, were dashed. A feeble call from the ruins electrified workers shortly before midnight.

Three hundred rescue workers frantically tore at the ruins. The voice, becoming more distinct, was believed to be that of George Roberts. Paul Roberts, a brother, called to him. A short distance away, Mrs. George Roberts was anxiously waiting, still confident that her husband was alive.

Rescue workers found the man who had been saved by a door which had fallen on him. When the debris was cleared away, the man was found to be Ora Paxon. Rushed to a hospital he lived only long enough to say good bye to his mother.

Another body was taken from the ruins early today. It was Frank Wiecezorek. A short time later, Mrs. Flora Miller, one of the injured, died, bringing the total to 18.

SHERMAN IN FURORE OVER NEGRO LYNCHING

MOB TAKES SUFFOCATED BODY FROM VAULT, HANGS IT TO COTTONWOOD TREE

MILITIA REINFORCEMENTS FROM DALLAS AND FORT WORTH
SUBDUED RIOTERS

Sherman, Texas, May 10.—(U.P.)—Comparative quiet was restored here today when militia reinforcements from Dallas and Fort Worth arrived to subdue rioters who for 15 hours terrorized the town after burning the Grayson county courthouse as a final resort in lynching a negro.

The town was virtually under martial law as 300 national guardsmen patrolled the streets.

Two members of the mob were in hospitals and four guardsmen were injured.

Thirteen men were lodged in the county jail today and charged with incendiarism and instigating mob violence. All are under 25 years of age. They were arrested by soldiers and peace officers today.

They are named on the docket as follows: Walter Spencer, Malcolm Clements, Charles Bateman, Ivan Bateman, W. E. Bateman, Earl Clements, W. L. Peters, Slim Jones, A. R. Gaoble, Earl O'Nary, J. E. McFastman, Jack Williams. J. W. Jeffrey was arrested this morning with half a stick of dynamite in his pocket.

The charred body of George Hughes, object of the lynching, who was suffocated in a vault where he was locked for safe keeping, was cut down from a cottonwood tree today. It was strung up after the mob had removed it from the vault and dragged it through the negro residential district, and a fire started under it.

The first detachment of guardsmen arrived here yesterday following rioting during the trial of George Hughes, 41-year-old negro charged with assaulting Mrs. Drew Farlow.

Hughes was roasted to death in a second floor vault of the courthouse yesterday when fire swept the structure. And then not content with the destruction of the courthouse and driving other negroes from town, the mob spent its energies attacking and harassing the guardsmen.

The guardsmen were attacked shortly after dusk when they were ordered to march to the courthouse to recover the body of Hughes. Ring-leaders of the rioting, unconvinced that Hughes was dead, recognized the move as an indication that Hughes was alive and that the troopers were going to rescue him. They were driven back.

Shortly after midnight a deep-throated roar rose from the rioters crowded about the courthouse. They had succeeded in removing Hughes' body from the vault and had tied a rope around it. It was dragged down the street in front of the jail and finally through streets of the negro district.

After it had been burned, the mob—which suddenly had grown from 300 to more than 1,000—dispersed.

Sherman, Texas, May 10.—Troops patrolled streets of Sherman this afternoon to prevent further rioting begun yesterday when a mob burned the courthouse to put to death a negro accused of assault and then began hours of disorder in which four guardsmen and two mob members were injured. They sought to fire the negro quarters.

Thirteen alleged mob members were in jail today and investigation was begun by state authorities led by Governor Dan Moody who characterized the demonstration as "treason, arson, murder and wanton destruction of property." Alleged ring leaders will be held for the grand jury.

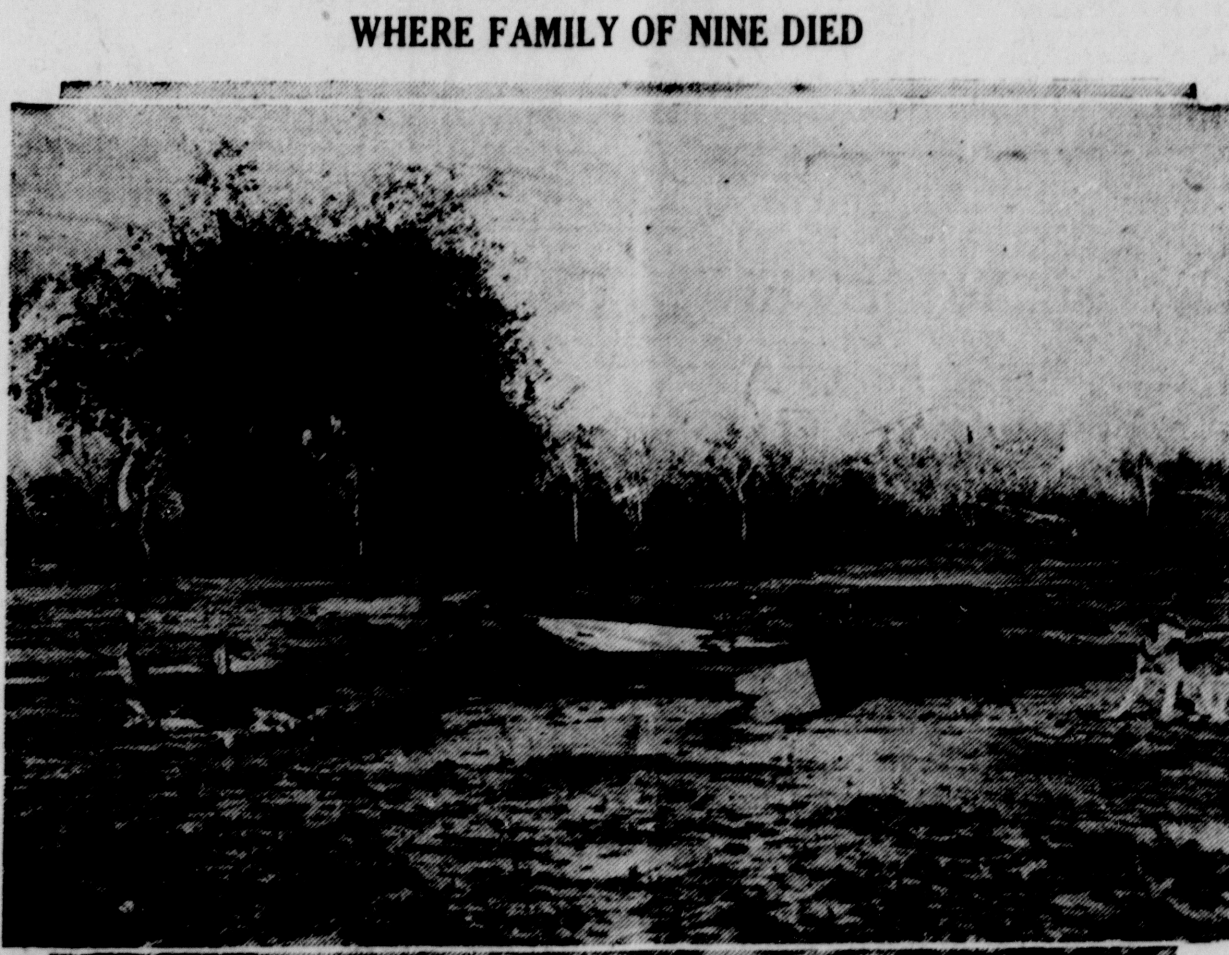

Soldiers recruited from Dallas will hold the town virtually under martial law today and tonight in the face of rumors that the mob, since dispersed, threatened to rally again tonight to burn homes, business buildings and the church in negro districts.

"Talk that an attempt would be made tonight to burn a negro church caused Col. L. E. McGee, commandant of the militiamen, to retain his guard," Mayor J. S. Subank said. Approximately 300 troops were on hand to maintain quiet.

The body of the negro, George Hughes, 41, who was taken from his trial on a charge of assaulting a woman to be locked in the courthouse vault, later fired and blasted, was cut down from a cottonwood tree today where it had been hung after the mob had bombed it from the vault and dragged it through the streets.

SERVICES in the CHURCHES

True Discipleship

Matthew 16:24, 25, 26. Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. 25. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it. 26. For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

Prayer: May we not be slothful but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

are busy preparing for examinations which will come the latter part of May.

The upper grade pupils have been busy making booklets. The second, sixth, fifth and third graders made poem booklets in which they are keeping all the poems that they have learned for the year.

The second graders have made hygiene and citizenship booklets in which they have written state examination questions and their correct answers.

The fifth graders made geography booklets in which they have a written outline and maps of all the separate groups of the United States. Visitors are asked to come in and see what kind of work they are doing.

On May 14 a program and pie social

The best school program of the year has been arranged which will include several snappy and humorous dialogues, a few recitations, songs and several musical selections by some very talented boys and men of the neighboring community. Everyone is cordially invited. Everyone is asked to remember and bring their pies. The program will commence at 8 o'clock. Margaret Schley is the teacher.

The present motto of the Kiwanis club is "We Build." The first motto selected was "We Trade." The first chapter of the club was organized January 21, 1915, in Detroit.

"Settled out of court." Behind that brief newspaper announcement is the story of real service furnished by the Attorney-at-Law whose friends know of his office as a Court of Peace. He knows that most quarrels are but the result of misunderstandings. Such a lawyer's fee is never commensurate with benefits dispensed.

SERVICES in the CHURCHES

True Discipleship

Matthew 16:24, 25, 26. Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. 25. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it. 26. For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

Prayer: May we not be slothful but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

"Settled out of court." Behind that brief newspaper announcement is the story of real service furnished by the Attorney-at-Law whose friends know of his office as a Court of Peace. Pike Fishing Starts Soon

PIKE fishing will open on Thursday, May 15, and will be the signal for the mobilization of hundreds of fishermen at Mille Lacs lake. The fishing grounds there, in a lake of wide extent and of shallow depth, is always the first to offer a large crop of the fish, ready for the hooks and lines of the ardent fishermen.

In town here there has been a brushing up of rods and reels and assembling of other paraphernalia. The county auditor's office has been busy issuing licenses. At the resorts at the lake which run around the 100 miles of coast line, reservations were made early in the season for boats and housing accommodations. The Brainerd Lake area is blessed with over 700 lakes and others besides Mille Lacs are also good pike fishing.

Good Growing Weather

WITH the temperature growing warmer and rains frequent, good growing weather is the rule throughout the county. Lawns in town are flourishing so that frequent cuttings are necessary to restrain the seeming exuberance of the grass.

Farmers are assured of good crops and hope the moisture will be as heavy in the late summer as it is now. The rain this spring has been of the kind that seeps into the ground and thoroughly saturates it.

Late in April a dust storm raged for a day, but this did no damage to the seeding that had been done.

Using Natural Color

THIS northern country has so much natural beauty and color in lakes and streams, hills and woods; so much wonderful history of Indian and pioneer; such fine highways and rail lines, that people only need a little publicity to stir the urge to flock here and enjoy the marvels of recreation and pleasure afforded.

Walker, which holds a Legion district convention this year, will utilize every bit of color to make the meeting a success. It is just an example for other towns in this district as to what can be done with our many natural advantages.

Advertising at All Times

ADVERTISING should be carried on at all times. When business is good, advertising makes it better. When business is poor, advertising betters conditions.

As reported in the Editor and Publisher, "in times of general depression, advertise more and work more."

This has been the policy of the Eastman Kodak Company in the past, George Eastman, chairman of the board, said recently in an interview.

IN an effort to arouse interest in town, district and state beautification, Mrs. P. M. Hall, president of the Sixth district, Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, is offering a prize of a silver trophy for the club in her district that reports the greatest number of trees planted during the year. The contest will close and the prize will be awarded on May 20, at the annual district meeting at Long Prairie.

THE Morse code is on the wane as a means of telegraphic communication, but, while many Morse operators have been absorbed in the automatic departments, they will never vanish. There are certain phases of work in which they are indispensable, but all the Morse telegraphers in the country today could not handle 20 per cent of the business sent by wire.

WHIST fans from Northwest states will gather at the Leamington hotel, Minneapolis, May 21 to 24, for the annual tournament of the Northwestern Whist Association. Leading players from Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and Wisconsin will be entered. One wonders if the checker players have any organization, or the chess enthusiasts.

MORE than 2,100 persons from nearly every state in the union and many foreign countries have made inquiries about obtaining farms in Minnesota in the past six months, according to the Ten Thousand Lakes-Greater Minnesota association. Iowa led in the number of inquiries with New York second and North Dakota third.

THINGS look good out in the country. The rains we are receiving are of the type which cling to the soil and thoroughly soak the ground. Seeding and other crop operations have been largely aided by the moisture. The lake country is also breathing easier as the rains are swelling lake levels.

THE United States Chamber of Commerce unwittingly helped the farmer when it adopted a resolution demanding repeal of the federal marketing act, is the opinion of A. J. Olson, of Renville, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau.

PASSAGE of a bill pending in congress to aid research in agricultural engineering has been urged by Dean W. C. Coffey of the department of agriculture, University of Minnesota.

THE Minnesota open golf tournament which has been conducted by the Minnesota section of the P. G. A. in the past may be taken over by the state amateur association.

PLANS are being laid for the formation of a state subsidiary of the Amateur Athletic Union of America in order to take over control of amateur boxing.

COMMITTEES have been named to arrange plans for establishing a northwest employment stabilization institute at the University of Minnesota.

THOSE through street signs placed at intersections should soon be up so as to be of benefit to the increasing number of tourist visitors.

FASHIONS, as pictured by the movies, now sweep the country quickly and also affect style changes in Europe.

THE Chamber of Commerce of Faribault will conduct its peony festival once every three years.

Pike Fishing Starts Soon

PIKE fishing will open on Thursday, May 15, and will be the signal for the mobilization of hundreds of fishermen at Mille Lacs lake. The fishing grounds there, in a lake of wide extent and of shallow depth, is always the first to offer a large crop of the fish, ready for the hooks and lines of the ardent fishermen.

In town here there has been a brushing up of rods and reels and assembling of other paraphernalia. The county auditor's office has been busy issuing licenses. At the resorts at the lake which run around the 100 miles of coast line, reservations were made early in the season for boats and housing accommodations.

The Brainerd Lake area is blessed with over 700 lakes and others besides Mille Lacs are also good pike fishing.

Good Growing Weather

WITH the temperature growing warmer and rains frequent, good growing weather is the rule throughout the county. Lawns in town are flourishing so that frequent cuttings are necessary to restrain the seeming exuberance of the grass.

Farmers are assured of good crops and hope the moisture will be as heavy in the late summer as it is now. The rain this spring has been of the kind that seeps into the ground and thoroughly saturates it.

Late in April a dust storm raged for a day, but this did no damage to the seeding that had been done.

Using Natural Color

THIS northern country has so much natural beauty and color in lakes and streams, hills and woods; so much wonderful history of Indian and pioneer; such fine highways and rail lines, that people only need a little publicity to stir the urge to flock here and enjoy the marvels of recreation and pleasure afforded.

Walker, which holds a Legion district convention this year, will utilize every bit of color to make the meeting a success. It is just an example for other towns in this district as to what can be done with our many natural advantages.

Advertising at All Times

ADVERTISING should be carried on at all times. When business is good, advertising makes it better. When business is poor, advertising betters conditions.

As reported in the Editor and Publisher, "in times of general depression, advertise more and work more."

This has been the policy of the Eastman Kodak Company in the past, George Eastman, chairman of the board, said recently in an interview.

IN an effort to arouse interest in town, district and state beautification, Mrs. P. M. Hall, president of the Sixth district, Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, is offering a prize of a silver trophy for the club in her district that reports the greatest number of trees planted during the year. The contest will close and the prize will be awarded on May 20, at the annual district meeting at Long Prairie.

THE Morse code is on the wane as a means of telegraphic communication, but, while many Morse operators have been absorbed in the automatic departments, they will never vanish. There are certain phases of work in which they are indispensable, but all the Morse telegraphers in the country today could not handle 20 per cent of the business sent by wire.

WHIST fans from Northwest states will gather at the Leamington hotel, Minneapolis, May 21 to 24, for the annual tournament of the Northwestern Whist Association. Leading players from Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and Wisconsin will be entered. One wonders if the checker players have any organization, or the chess enthusiasts.

MORE than 2,100 persons from nearly every state in the union and many foreign countries have made inquiries about obtaining farms in Minnesota in the past six months, according to the Ten Thousand Lakes-Greater Minnesota association. Iowa led in the number of inquiries with New York second and North Dakota third.

THINGS look good out in the country. The rains we are receiving are of the type which cling to the soil and thoroughly soak the ground. Seeding and other crop operations have been largely aided by the moisture. The lake country is also breathing easier as the rains are swelling lake levels.

THE United States Chamber of Commerce unwittingly helped the farmer when it adopted a resolution demanding repeal of the federal marketing act, is the opinion of A. J. Olson, of Renville, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau.

PASSAGE of a bill pending in congress to aid research in agricultural engineering has been urged by Dean W. C. Coffey of the department of agriculture, University of Minnesota.

THE Minnesota open golf tournament which has been conducted by the Minnesota section of the P. G. A. in the past may be taken over by the state amateur association.

PLANS are being laid for the formation of a state subsidiary of the Amateur Athletic Union of America in order to take over control of amateur boxing.

COMMITTEES have been named to arrange plans for establishing a northwest employment stabilization institute at the University of Minnesota.

THOSE through street signs placed at intersections should soon be up so as to be of benefit to the increasing number of tourist visitors.

FASHIONS, as pictured by the movies, now sweep the country quickly and also affect style changes in Europe.

THE Chamber of Commerce of Faribault will conduct its peony festival once every three years.

COUNTY TO SHOW MORE THAN 1200 CENSUS JUMP

County Population Expected to Hit 25,300 Mark When All Returns in

CROSBY NOT COMPLETED
Townships and Villages Seesaw in Tally; Farms, 1718; Iron-ton Drop Slight

Crow Wing county will hit the 25,300 population mark when all figures are in, it was indicated with the receipt of preliminary county figures from the office of the district census supervisor at Little Falls today.

The county's 1930 population will show an increase of more than 1200 over the 1920 census coverage, it was predicted.

Gains and losses in seesaw fashion were seen for towns, villages and townships in the county with gains predominating.

Braierd with a population of 10,187 as a preliminary figure with still an increase to be made is responsible for a 596 gain of the tentative figures.

Census checkers were working on Crosby's figures today and will complete the count for announcement early next week. The Cuyuna range town showed a population in 1920 of 3500 persons. Iron-ton shows a drop of from 1,165 to 1,023 but this loss was substantially overcome in various other parts of the county.

The greatest gain in townships, towns, and villages was recorded in Iron-ton township where the population jumped from 615 to 805, gaining 190 persons, while the heaviest loss was shown for the village of Cuyuna.

The range village lost 152 in the ten years, the population in 1920 being 417 while 265 persons were recorded there this year.

The census shows that Crow Wing county has a total of 1718 farms.

Tentative figures for townships, towns and villages received today and excluding Braierd and Crosby are given in the table on this page.

ZANE GREY'S PLAY

AT MIDNIGHT SHOW

Zane Grey's "Light of Western Stars" will be shown at the midnight show at the Paramount this evening and all day Sunday.

The picture features Richard Arlen, Mary Brian in a complete outdoor setting. It is the popular western author's prized story.

'THE NAUTICAL KNOT'

OPERETTA, MAY 16

This year the Brainerd high school has chosen "The Nautical Knot" for its operetta Friday, May 16, and student players are now working away at their songs and action. The operetta will have a setting of a quay on the Atlantic seaboard, with a light house in the distance and the unusual paraphernalia that encumbers a dock—kegs and nets and coiled ropes in piles—all the equipment needed for ships that go to sea.

Before this background the people of Barnstapole gather to bid the sailors "bon voyage" as they depart for a year, and meet again to welcome them upon their return. Charming damsels, artists in Bohemian garb, Barnstapole girls in burlesque gowns and pretty hats form a background for the sailors whose love affairs form the plot for this interesting story.

"The course of true love never did run smooth" is the keynote of the play. The naughty Julia cares naught for the sorrows of others if she may have her way—the gentle Nance he means the loss of her love, bashful Joe Stout dares not speak for his beloved's heart. Bill Salt, the rollicking old sailor, furnishes much humor in his efforts to be of help.

In a sportsman it's Fair Play

in a cigarette it's Taste

POPULARITY IN A SPORTSMAN rests first of all on fair play; in a cigarette on better taste.

CHESTERFIELD'S POPULARITY is fairly won with finer tobaccos, blended and cross-blended to give greater delicacy and richer fragrance.

IT TAKES TIME and is costly to make cigarettes the Chesterfield way, but no other way arrives so surely, so completely at what you want most . . . "TASTE above everything".

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette

COUNTY TO SHOW MORE THAN 1200 CENSUS JUMP

County Population Expected to Hit 25,300 Mark When All Returns in

CROSBY NOT COMPLETED

Townships and Villages Seesaw in Tally; Farms, 1718; Ironton Drop Slight

Crow Wing county will hit the 25,300 population mark when all figures are in, it was indicated with the receipt of preliminary county figures from the office of the district census supervisor at Little Falls today.

The county's 1930 population will show an increase of more than 1200 over the 1920 census coverage, it was predicted.

Gains and losses in seesaw fashion were seen for towns, villages and townships in the county with gains predominating.

Braierd with a population of 10,187 as a preliminary figure with still an increase to be made is responsible for a 596 gain of the tentative figures.

Census checkers were working on Crosby's figures today and will complete the count for announcement early next week. The Cuyuna range town showed a population in 1920 of 3500 persons. Ironton shows a drop of from 1,165 to 1,023 but this loss was substantially overcome in various other parts of the county.

The greatest gain in townships, towns, and villages was recorded in Irondale township where the population jumped from 615 to 805, gaining 190 persons, while the heaviest loss was shown for the village of Cuyuna.

The range village lost 152 in the ten years, the population in 1920 being 417 while 265 persons were recorded there this year.

The census shows that Crow Wing county has a total of 1718 farms.

Tentative figures for townships, towns and villages received today and excluding Braierd and Crosby are given in the table on this page.

ZANE GREY'S PLAY

AT MIDNIGHT SHOW

Zane Grey's "Light of Western Stars" will be shown at the midnight show at the Paramount this evening and all day Sunday.

The picture features Richard Arlen, Mary Brian in a complete outdoor setting. It is the popular western author's prized story.

'THE NAUTICAL KNOT'

OPERA, MAY 16

This year the Brainerd high school has chosen "The Nautical Knot" for its opera. Friday, May 16, and student players are now working away at their songs and action. The opera will have a setting of a quay on the Atlantic seaboard, with a light house in the distance and the unusual paraphernalia that encumbers a dock—kegs and nets and coiled ropes in piles—all the equipment needed for ships that go to sea.

Before this background the people of Barnstable gather to bid the sailors "bon voyage" as they depart for a year, and meet again to welcome them upon their return. Charming damsel artists in Bohemian garb, Barnstable girls in beruffled gowns and pretty hats form a background for the sailors whose love affairs form the plot for this interesting story.

"The course of true love never did run smooth" is the keynote of the play. The naughty Julia cares naught for the sorrows of others if she may have her way—the gentle Nance bemoans the loss of her love, bashful Joe Stout dares not speak for his beloved's heart. Bill Salt, the rollicking old sailor, furnishes much humor in his efforts to be of help.

THOMPSON, DEFEATING FIELDS, IS TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

GALLANT FOX FAVORITE TO WIN KENTUCKY DERBY

HEMORRHAGES OF EYES AND NOSE AFTER HARD FIGHT

YOUNG THOMPSON IS THE NEW HOLDER OF WORLD'S WELTERWEIGHT TITLE

FIRST NEGRO TO HOLD CHAMPIONSHIP SINCE JOE WOLCOTT WON FROM FERNS IN 1901

Detroit, May 10.—(U.P.)—Young Jack Thompson, new holder of the world's welterweight title, was a patient at receiving hospital today, taken there when he suffered hemorrhages of the eyes and nose after his fight last night with Jackie Fields.

At the hospital it was said Thompson's condition was not serious and that he probably would be discharged this afternoon.

Thompson, a veteran of 261 fights, is the first negro to hold the welterweight championship since Joe Wolcott won the title from "Rube" Ferns in 1901.

Thompson, a right hook specialist, took the title in an upset match with Jackie Fields of Chicago by a 15-round decision. There was no doubt about the winner and practically everyone in the crowd agreed with the verdict of Referee Slim McClelland.

It was a great fight, with the milling so intense throughout the fifteen sessions that the referee seldom found it necessary to touch either contestant. Both men were willing to fight, with Thompson advancing flat-footedly at all times and Fields trying to keep him away.

The negro completely disregarded Fields' famed left hook and except in the second round was not hurt. In that session Jackie sent home a hard left hook to the jaw and followed with several lefts and rights, but Thompson weathered the round and came out fresh enough to batter the champion in the third round.

From then until the ninth it was all Thompson but the champion rallied then and shook up young Jack enough to take the ninth round.

Thompson was content to rest in the tenth and eleventh but Fields could not penetrate his defensive left to score damaging punches. The negro came out fighting in the twelfth, took that round and then pounded Jackie all over the ring in the thirteenth and fourteenth. Fields grabbed and held at every opportunity but the fast milling had taken much of the steam out of young Jack's punches and the new champion could not put Jackie on the floor.

The fifteenth saw Fields start recklessly, apparently realizing that his only chance for victory was by a knockout. He wouldn't have lost his title had he fought throughout as he did in the fifteenth. He waded into Thompson with left hooks and shook up the negro enough to force young Jack into clinches. Both men were tired, Thompson perhaps the more weary, and Fields took the round.

The fight drew 15,000 persons who paid in the neighborhood of $60,000.

Detroit, May 10.—Jack Thompson, the world's new welterweight champion, who was taken to a hospital after last night's fight, suffering from nose hemorrhages, today was discharged from the institution.

Explaining Colored Showers

Showers of so-called ink are due to the presence of smoke or soot in the air, and showers of "milk" to chalky earth. Some of the most remarkable falls of dust, including incidental showers of colored rain, have been caused by explosive volcanic eruptions, in which mineral material was projected to great heights in the atmosphere and subsequently spread far over the globe.

HORSE PILOTED BY SANDE WON PREAKNESS RACE

OVERCAME ALL OF THE WORST RACING LUCK IMAGINABLE

11 KENTUCKY DERBY CANDIDATES GO TO POST IN SOUTH LOUISVILLE PURSE

By CHARLES M. EGAN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Baltimore, May 10.—A big, sturdy-looking bay colt, one of the handsomest that ever raced in Maryland, will entrain for Churchill Downs tomorrow afternoon, carrying the east's hopes of victory in next Saturday's Kentucky Derby. And they're mighty high hopes!

For few, if any, of the 40,000 persons who saw Gallant Fox and his peerless jockey, Earle Sande, battle their way to victory in yesterday's Preakness, believe there is any three-year-old in the west that can match strides with William Woodward's champion. It is even more certain no other jockey of the present crop will be able to eclipse the ride which Sande put up to win his first Preakness.

Gallant Fox had to be many pounds the best to win, for if ever a horse got all the worst of the racing luck, the son of Sir Galahad III did. Shrewd followers of racing will not overlook this fact, thus making it appear likely the Woodward horse will be a very short-priced favorite in the Louisville classic.

Trainer Jim Fitzsimmons will accompany Gallant Fox tomorrow, while Sande will remain here for a few days before leaving in quest of his third derby triumph. Earle is more than confident of the result, praising Gallant Fox as one of the best horses he ever rode.

While Gallant Fox and Sande drew most of the applause, there was plenty of praise today for Dr. T. M. Cassidy's Crack Brigade and his rider, little George Ellis. This pair fought a gallant fight all the way.

True, Crack Brigade didn't have the handicaps to overcome that Gallant Fox did, but the English-bred colt proved himself a great horse, one that will have to be reckoned with in many of the forthcoming three-year-old fixtures.

Most of the glory goes to the first two horses, for none of the rest of the field of 11 was close. Walter J. Salzman's Snowflake proved to be good game filly, but couldn't get close to the top pair after the real racing started. Snowflake was six lengths back of Crack Brigade at the finish, with J. L. Pontius' Michigan Boy in fourth place, another length and a half back.

Louisville, Ky., May 10.—Eleven Kentucky Derby candidates are expected to go to the post today in the South Louisville Purse, secondary feature of the opening program of the Churchill Downs spring inaugural.

Chief interest will be centered around the Valley Lake stable's High Foot, second choice for derby honors in the future books; and Audley Farm's Gallant Knight, making his initial start of the year.

The historic Clark Handicap, a stake as old as the derby itself, is the feature event on the card. The race will be a mile and one sixteenth, carrying an added value of $10,000. Sixteen of the turf's finest handicap horses are entered, including Clyde Van Dusen, winner of the 1929 derby, Buddy Basil, Latonia Derby victor, Toro, the Nut and Misstep.

WET TRACK FORCES MEET POSTPONEMENT

The Brainerd-Little Falls dual track and field meet at Little Falls was today postponed because of wet conditions at the Little Falls fair grounds, part of the track being completely under water.

The dual meet will follow the district and regional meets at Little Falls on May 17 and May 24 respectively. The kittenball game between the two schools will be held at that time also. Advices today indicate the dual meet has been set for Tuesday, May 13.

ATHLETICS AND CHICAGO CUBS HEADING LEAGUES

IN POSITION TO INCREASE THEIR ADVANTAGE BY DEFEATING LEADING CONTENDERS

JIMMY FOX'S HOMER WITH TWO ON BASES WAS A VERY TIMELY BLOW

(By United Press)

Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago Cubs, 1929 world series opponents, today headed their respective leagues and were in position to increase their advantage by defeating leading contenders for honors. The Cubs have three more games to play against the second place New York Giants, and the Athletics are engaged in a four-game series with the third place Cleveland Indians. The Cubs defeated the Giants, 6 to 5, yesterday.

Jimmy Fox's third inning homer with two men on base started the Philadelphia Athletics' attack which downed the Indians, 9 to 4. Grove was hit hard but kept the Indians' blows well scattered.

Lloyd Brown turned in his third victory of the season, beating the Chicago White Sox, 14 to 3, and the Washington Senators advanced to second place in the American League.

Brooklyn's Robins ended their three game losing streak, defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7 to 4. Bill Clark held the Pirates scoreless until the eighth.

A wild pitch by Johnson, with the bases filled in the eighth gave the Detroit Tigers the winning runs in their 5 to 4 win over the New York Yankees.

Ray Benge held the Cincinnati Reds to 7 hits and the Phillies took the opener of a four game series, 3 to 1.

Singles by Regan, Heving and Oliver and a home run by Sweeney gave the Boston Red Sox four runs in the sixth inning and enabled them to defeat the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 2.

Bill Sherdel held the Boston Braves scoreless after Sylvester Johnson was knocked from the mound in the 4th and the St. Louis Cardinals turned in a 10 to 6 victory.

TRAIN TRAVEL DE LUXE ON NORTHERN PACIFIC

America's newest creation for rail passenger travel today is on exhibition in the northwest.

The Northern Pacific's new North Coast Limited, which is declared to embody every known passenger train refinement, is on tour between Chicago and the Pacific coast. It is called a veritable palace on wheels, drawn by a monster locomotive 104 feet long. Exhibitions were held at St. Cloud, Staples, and Fargo.

This only all-Pullman, transcontinental train operating between Chicago and north Pacific cities has taken on entirely new dress. Inaugurated 30 years ago as the first de luxe limited train in the northwest, officials said that this marks the third evolution of its equipment in setting advanced passenger train fashion.

The 1930 North Coast Limited, a third epoch in the history of this palatial train, will take the rails in regular service May 15.

An investment of more than $4,000,000 is represented in the seven North Coast Limiteds required for the fleet which will serve the northwest. The unit of the fleet exhibited today, like the six others, is new from pilot to tail light.

Another Helen Wills?

By HARDIN BURNLEY

Sarah PALFREY
BOSTON'S 17-YEAR OLD TENNIS MARVEL WHO WILL PLAY IN THE WIGHTMAN CUP MATCHES AGAINST ENGLAND THIS SUMMER.

"A GOOD BET TO SUCCEED HELEN WILLS."

THE SPORT BUG.

THE most interesting personality in women's tennis, since Helen Wills won national attention at the age of fifteen, is Miss Sarah Palfrey, of Boston, who, at seventeen, will represent the United States in the Wightman Cup matches with England. Winner of seven girls' indoor national championships, Sarah is regarded by many as the eventual successor to Mrs. Helen Wills Moody as Queen of Tennis. The latter, of course, is the big star of our Wightman Cup team on which Miss Helen Jacobs, Edith Cross, and Miss Lawrence A. Harper also will play.

While still a comparative child, Sarah Palfrey achieved national honors in 1927 by winning the girls' indoor crown, repeated in 1928, and lost the final last year to her sister, Mianne. The latter, incidentally, and another sister, Joanna, are also expert players—constituting the most remarkable family trio in tennis annals.

"Baby" Joanna is only 15, yet she carried Sarah to the final in the national championship recently. Joanna was then overwhelmed, 6-0 and 6-1. Teaming with Sarah, the Palfreys then defeated the Boehm twins—Hilda and Helen—in decisive fashion to win the doubles title.

As the youngest Wightman Cup player ever sent abroad, Sarah is likely to attract almost as much attention as Queen Helen herself. Inspired by association with the game's best women players, the

Palfrey girl may rise even above her normally good form and prove the sensation at Wimbledon.

Sarah, of course, is not afflicted with a superiority complex, nor is she handicapped with inferiority variation. She knows her game has never yet approached the true championship class of that Queen Helen but it may, some day, and that is enough inspiration for any young player. Sarah is no riotous American flapper. She is as well poised as the already historic "Miss Poker Face" and she should capture the ardent fancy of England's tennis public.

Moreover, Sarah Palfrey does seem the logical answer to the query: "After Helen Wills... who?"

FAMOUS SPORT NAMESAKES

JOHN SMITH (left) ENGLISH WALKER CUP STAR, IS ONE OF THREE FAMOUS GOLFING SMITHS—HORTON AND MAC SMITH ARE THE OTHERS—
MARTIN IS A GREAT TRACK NAME—ORVAL SAM BERRAPHIM AND (below) DR. PAUL MARTIN ARE ALL CRACK RUNNERS.

BUSH IS A BIG NAME IN BASEBALL—DONIE, JOE AND GUY BUSH ARE ALL FAMOUS.

WHEN sport bugs say "Smith" in these times, one's mind leaps to golf at which Horton, McDonald and John of that name are so distinguished; and when they mention "Martin," one readily thinks of middle-distance track stars, most notably Dr. Paul Martin—swiftest of the Swiss, if not the world's best in his particular athletic field.

Among American athletes lovers the late Alex. Horton and McDonald Smith are household words; the latter through his consistently able play for many years while the former, verging on 22, has scintillated in the spotlight for more than a year.

On this side of the big water, not so much is known concerning John Nelson Smith, England's noted amateur. He was runner-up for John Bull's championship last Spring, will be an interesting contender for that 1930 crown, and is a member of his country's Walker Cup team.

This British Smith is especially interesting to many since he is an artisan, but whether that qualifies him, as it does Phil Scott, to have an egg with his tea, Dan Parker (American authority on Ceylon nogg) and English records saith not. As a matter of ethnological fact, this Smith is a Scot and no doubt, like Walter Hagen, might prefer his eggs with something other than tea. At all events—with or without haggis or Haig—this Scotch Smith is braw golfer as he needs must be should he compete with the American Smiths in the British Open.

Of the Martins, Dr. Paul is the most famous. He approached world championship recognition at New York City recently when he set a new A. A. U. record for the 1,000 yards, beating Ray Conger, America's mile king. Dr. Martin's time was 2 minutes, 12 3-5 seconds, which he will better before the year ends, unless most critics of track form err.

Sam, the Boston A. A. flyer; Orval, Purdue's Mercury over like courses, and Seraphim, French Olympic wonder, are among the other Martins who can electrify much of the athletic world whenever the starter's guns send them under way in middle-distance races.

WET TRACK FORCES MEET POSTPONEMENT

The Brainerd-Little Falls dual track and field meet at Little Falls was today postponed because of wet conditions at the Little Falls fair grounds, part of the track being completely under water.

The dual meet will follow the district and regional meets at Little Falls on May 17 and May 24 respectively. The kittenball game between the two schools will be held at that time also. Advices today indicate the dual meet has been set for Tuesday, May 13.

Electric Trouble

Bobby's mother blew a fuse while she was connecting the electric percolator. The house was plunged in darkness, but Bobby thought this was great. Shortly afterward Bobby was looking out of the window. As it was cloudy he could see no stars, so he came running to his mother, crying: "Mother, the stars have blown a fuse!"

ATHLETICS AND CHICAGO CUBS HEADING LEAGUES

IN POSITION TO INCREASE THEIR ADVANTAGE BY DEFEATING LEADING CONTENDERS

JIMMY FOX'S HOMER WITH TWO ON BASES WAS A VERY TIMELY BLOW

(By United Press)

Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago Cubs, 1929 world series opponents, today headed their respective leagues and were in position to increase their advantage by defeating leading contenders for honors. The Cubs have three more games to play against the second place New York Giants, and the Athletics are engaged in a four-game series with the third place Cleveland Indians. The Cubs defeated the Giants, 6 to 5, yesterday.

Jimmy Fox's third inning homer with two men on base started the Philadelphia Athletics' attack which downed the Indians, 9 to 4. Grove was hit hard but kept the Indians' blows well scattered.

Lloyd Brown turned in his third victory of the season, beating the Chicago White Sox, 14 to 3, and the Washington Senators advanced to second place in the American League.

Brooklyn's Robins ended their three game losing streak, defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7 to 4. Bill Clark held the Pirates scoreless until the eighth.

A wild pitch by Johnson, with the bases filled in the eighth gave the Detroit Tigers the winning runs in their 5 to 4 win over the New York Yankees.

Ray Benge held the Cincinnati Reds to 7 hits and the Phillies took the opener of a four game series, 3 to 1.

Singles by Regan, Heving and Oliver and a home run by Sweeney gave the Boston Red Sox four runs in the sixth inning and enabled them to defeat the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 2.

Bill Sherdel held the Boston Braves scoreless after Sylvester Johnson was knocked from the mound in the 4th and the St. Louis Cardinals turned in a 10 to 6 victory.

TRAIN TRAVEL DE LUXE ON NORTHERN PACIFIC

America's newest creation for rail passenger travel today is on exhibition in the northwest.

The Northern Pacific's new North Coast Limited, which is declared to embody every known passenger train refinement, is on tour between Chicago and the Pacific coast. It is called a veritable palace on wheels, drawn by a monster locomotive 104 feet long. Exhibitions were held at St. Cloud, Staples, and Fargo.

This only all-Pullman, transcontinental train operating between Chicago and north Pacific cities has taken on entirely new dress. Inaugurated 30 years ago as the first de luxe limited train in the northwest, officials said that this marks the third evolution of its equipment in setting advanced passenger train fashion.

The 1930 North Coast Limited, a third epoch in the history of this palatial train, will take the rails in regular service May 15.

An investment of more than $4,000,000 is represented in the seven North Coast Limiteds required for the fleet which will serve the northwest. The unit of the fleet exhibited today, like the six others, is new from pilot to tail light.

Another Helen Wills?

By HARDIN BURNLEY

Sarah PALFREY
BOSTON'S 17-YEAR OLD TENNIS MARVEL WHO WILL PLAY IN THE WIGHTMAN CUP MATCHES AGAINST ENGLAND THIS SUMMER.

"A GOOD BET TO SUCCEED HELEN WILLS."

THE SPORT BUG.

THE most interesting personality in women's tennis, since Helen Wills won national attention at the age of fifteen, is Miss Sarah Palfrey, of Boston, who, at seventeen, will represent the United States in the Wightman Cup matches with England. Winner of seven girls' indoor national championships, Sarah is regarded by many as the eventual successor to Mrs. Helen Wills Moody as Queen of Tennis. The latter, of course, is the big star of our Wightman Cup team on which Miss Helen Jacobs, Edith Cross, and Miss Lawrence A. Harper also will play.

While still a comparative child, Sarah Palfrey achieved national honors in 1927 by winning the girls' indoor crown, repeated in 1928, and lost the final last year to her sister, Mianne. The latter, incidentally, and another sister, Joanna, are also expert players—constituting the most remarkable family trio in tennis annals. "Baby" Joanna is only 15, yet she carried Sarah to the final in the national championship recently. Joanna was then overwhelmed, 6-0 and 6-1. Teaming with the Boehm twins—Hilda and Helen—in decisive fashion to win the doubles title.

As the youngest Wightman Cup player ever sent abroad, Sarah is likely to attract almost as much attention as Queen Helen herself. Inspired by association with the game's best women players, the

Palfrey girl may rise even above her normally good form and prove the sensation at Wimbledon.

Sarah, of course, is not afflicted with a superiority complex, nor is she handicapped with its inferiority variation. She knows her game has never yet approached the true championship class of that of Queen Helen but it may, some day, and that is enough inspiration for any young player. Sarah is no riotous American flapper. She is as well poised as the already historic "Miss Poker Face" and she should capture the ardent fancy of England's tennis public. Moreover, Sarah Palfrey does seem the logical answer to the query: "After Helen Wills... who?"

MARTIN IS A GREAT TEAM NAME. SEVERAL FAMOUS BASEBALL PLAYERS ARE ALL CHUCK MARTIN.

BUSH IS A BIG NAME IN BASEBALL. "DONIE JOE" AND GUY BUSH ARE ALL FAMOUS.

THE SPORT BUG.

WHEN sport bugs say "Smith" in these times, one's mind leaps to golf at which Horton, McDonald and John of that name are so distinguished; and when they mention "Martin," one readily thinks of middle-distance track stars, most notably Dr. Paul Martin—swiftest of the Swiss, if not the world's best in his particular athletic field. Among American links lovers the late Alex. Horton and McDonald Smith are household words; the latter through his consistently able play for many years while the former, verging on 22, has scintillated in the spotlight for more than a year.

On this side of the big water this Scotch Smith is braw golfer hazard, not so much is known concerning John Nelson Smith, England's noted amateur. He was runner-up for John Bull's championship last Spring, will be an interesting contender for that 1930 crown, and is a member of his country's Walker Cup team.

This British Smith is especially interesting to many since he is an artisan, but whether that qualifies him, as it does Phil Scott, to have an egg with his tea, Dan Parker (American authority on Ceylon nogg) and English records saith not. As a matter of ethnological fact, this Smith is a Scot and no doubt, like Walter Hagen, might prefer his eggs with something other than tea. At all events—with or without haggis or Haig—this Scotch Smith is braw golfer as he needs must be should he compete with the American Smiths in the British Open.

Of the Martins, Dr. Paul is the most famous. He approached world championship recognition at New York City recently when he set a new A. A. U. record for the 1,000 yards, beating Ray Conger, America's mile king. Dr. Martin's time was 2 minutes, 12 3-5 seconds, which he will better before the year ends, unless most critics of track form err.

Sam, the Boston A. A. flyer; Orval, Purdue's Mercury over like courses, and Seraphim, French Olympic wonder, are among the other Martins who can electrify much of the athletic world whenever the starter's guns send them under way in middle-distance races.

LIES ON FLOOR UNCONSCIOUS 24 HOURS, CARL MOLSTAD SUCCUMBS

Dies in Hospital Early Today as a Result of Fractured Skull in Thursday Accident

FOUND BY NEIGHBOR

Authorities Learn That Young Man Fell on Head When Chain He Was Climbing Dislodged

Lying on the floor of his home at 704 East Oak street in an unconscious condition for 24 hours before found by a neighbor who came to the house to inquire of the health of his father who lies seriously ill at Rochester, Minn., Carl Molstad was rushed to the St. Joseph's hospital at 4:30 p. m. yesterday and passed away at the hospital at 4 a. m. today.

A three way investigation was conducted into the death of the 28 year old Brainerd man today by Coroner D. E. Whitney, the Brainerd police department and the sheriff's department.

The investigation resulted in the disclosure that Molstad, known to many here as "Happy" Molstad, died as a result of a fractured skull resulting from a fall in the Ray Law Blacksmith Shop, Maple street, on Thursday afternoon about 4 o'clock.

Ray Law told authorities today that Molstad was injured when he fell headfirst to the concrete floor of the shop when an iron chain suspended from the ceiling came loose. Law stated that Molstad was pulling himself up the chain, feet first, when the chain dislodged from the ceiling.

"After the accident we entreated Molstad to go to a doctor and have his injuries treated," Mr. Law stated, "He did not want to go to a doctor so I put mercurochrome on the cut on his head and scratches on his hand. We then asked him if we could take him home but he said he would walk. He remained at the shop for about 15 minutes and then he allowed me to take him home in my car. I left him at the front door and he walked inside the house. I did not know that none of his relatives were at home."

The young man was found in an unconscious condition on the floor of the living room at the home by Mrs. Albert Zahn, 622 South Oak street, who came to the house to inquire of the health of his father, Jens Molstad, a Brainerd tailor, who is ill at Rochester.

Mrs. Zahn immediately called a doctor and the young man was taken to the hospital.

Investigating all angles of the case authorities announced that there was no evidence to indicate that Molstad may have been the victim of foul play.

Shortly before the accident Molstad had purchased a new suit of clothes at a downtown store and had planned to leave on the early Friday train for Rochester to see his father and to join his mother and brother, Nels, who were with Mr. Molstad.

Throughout the night while Molstad lay in an unconscious condition on the living room floor a roomer at the house, Miss Mabel Lee, a bookkeeper in a Brainerd store, slept in her room upstairs.

Since there was no blood in evidence on the hall floor nor had she any occasion to enter the living room Miss Lee had no way of knowing of the man's plight. She did not learn of Molstad's unfortunate circumstances until last evening. She said she heard no sounds in the house when she entered nor while she remained in her room.

To gain complete information on all details of the death Coroner D. E. Whitney started a coroner's inquest at 3 p. m. today.

Molstad is survived by his parents and eight brothers and sisters, Clarence, 12, who was living with his sister, Selma, at Minneapolis at the time of the tragedy, Irene, a student at the St. Cloud Teacher's College, Rudolph of Minneapolis, Harold, a teacher at Upsala, George of Proctor who had left Minneapolis for Brainerd before learning of Carl's injury, Nels of Minneapolis, and William of St. Paul.

Carl was born and raised in Brainerd. He attended Brainerd schools and had been employed at the Northern Pacific Railway for the past 12 years, operating a gas motor for switching purposes in the lumber yards. He was a member of the Brainerd Lodge of Elks.

This afternoon's inquest disclosed that Alfred Zahn a neighbor noticed Molstad lying on the floor the afternoon he was hurt and paid no attention to him believing he was sleeping. He told the jury that he had been asked to see that the house was all right by relatives and had gone over there Thursday afternoon. He returned Friday afternoon again and found Molstad still lying on the floor where he had seen him before. Zahn then called a doctor. Jens Molstad the father has not been informed of his son's death because of his serious condition. He is being returned to Brainerd today.

MANY 1930 TOURISTS WILL COME BY RAIL

Benn Wagner Gets Views of Rail Official on Chicago Vacationers

MANY PICK MINNESOTA

Three States to Split Tourist Travel, Attendance at Show Increases

Minnesota will receive a large amount of tourist travel this year by rail, according to Benn Wagner who is in charge of the Brainerd booth at the Chicago Outdoor Exposition.

This statement was made in a letter from Mr. Wagner received by the Brainerd Dispatch today.

Mr. Wagner draws these conclusions from an interview with a representative of a large railroad with headquarters at Chicago.

Quoting the railroad official Mr. Wagner writes: "I should not be surprised if Chicago sends as many people to Minnesota as to Michigan and Wisconsin this year."

His letter continues: "Attendance at the show is continuing to increase, Wednesday's figures being 34,372. The rush as usual is at night. We have improved our counter after our initial experience here. The counter is the show window of the booth and literature must be bright with color to get attention. It is very noticeable that the ordinary looking folders receive scant notice."

"In many of the booths the smaller pieces of literature are grouped inside larger ones and the whole package is handed out. Some place these packages where they may be picked up. Others almost force them on those passing by and as a result we see a lot of people going by with many dollars worth of printing under their arms."

"We have been conservative in our distribution. We brought 6,000 of the 'Land O' Hiawatha' folders down and they probably will run out before Saturday night. With the smaller lots of folders we try to get them to people interested in the type of place offered, but this is more or less of a guess."

Mr. Ruttger of Ruttger's on Bay Lake has made a number of good contacts that he hopes to develop into clients. Mr. Young from the New Bemidji hotel is having a similar experience.

"If costs at our booth are representative of Chicago expense it is no wonder the city is 'broke.' We are not allowed to drive a nail because of union regulations and it cost us $16 for eight hours carpenter work on counters and heavy pond. A floodlight for the booth cost $12.50 for the week, a half dozen chairs for the booth so we could have a place for interested prospects to sit and gather information cost $18 rent for a week. Can you beat it?"

BALLET REVEALS DANCE PROFICIENCY

Three Act Play Gracefully Presented by Young Dance Pupils

"The Ballet of Coppelia," presented last evening at the Washington high school auditorium before an audience of 700 people did much to install ballet and other forms of classical dancing to its rightful place in the training of young girls in Brainerd and Crosby. With settings strikingly beautiful and costumes gorgeous the play in three acts done all in pantomime and dancing proved to be a delightful innovation of stage entertainment to Brainerd and Cuyuna range people.

The success of the presentation reflected creditably to the instructions of Miss Anita Hartzberg of The Helen S. Noble School of Dancing who has been conducting a dancing school here and at Crosby the past season. Peggy Scallon and Beth Pulkcrabek were featured, supported by children and young ladies in the number of 35.

BUILDING BURNS IN HEIGHT OF STORM

Flames Consume Garage and Woodshed at 419 South Broadway at Midnight

While last night's rain and electrical storm was at its height, flames consumed the barn and garage to the rear of the home of John Erickson, 419 South Broadway.

The alarm was turned in at midnight but the flames had gained such headway that the 27 firemen who answered the alarm were powerless to save the building. The loss was covered by $300 insurance. The start of the fire is undetermined. Fire Chief Frank Fuller discredited the theory that lightning struck the building, there being nothing to indicate such, he said.

A car that was kept in the garage was removed yesterday afternoon when it failed to start and was towed to a downtown garage.

TAKES TO PULPIT IN MORMONISM TALK

Mrs. Marion Williams, for 48 years a member of the Mormon church, the second wife of an elder and the daughter of a polygamist, perhaps one of the greatest living authorities from the religious point of view on Mormonism, will present "Mormonism" in an address at 7:45 P. M. Sunday at the First M. E. church.

She comes well recommended by pastors from 14 different denominations and has spoken from coast to coast and also in five western provinces of Canada.

Rev. F. A. Kufus the local Methodist minister, having had her speak in two of his former churches is glad to recommend her to the people of Brainerd to whom a special invitation is extended to hear her. Preceding the address, Fred Lind will lead the congregational singing and will render a special vocal solo.

BALLET REVEALS DANCE PROFICIENCY

Three Act Play Gracefully Presented by Young Dance Pupils

"The Ballet of Coppelia," presented last evening at the Washington high school auditorium before an audience of 700 people did much to install ballet and other forms of classical dancing to its rightful place in the training of young girls in Brainerd and Crosby.

With settings strikingly beautiful and costumes gorgeous the play in three acts done all in pantomime and dancing proved to be a delightful innovation of stage entertainment to Brainerd and Cuyuna range people.

The success of the presentation reflected creditably to the instructions of Miss Anita Hartberg of The Helen S. Noble School of Dancing who has been conducting a dancing school here and at Crosby the past season.

Peggy Scallion and Beth Pulkrabek were featured, supported by children and young ladies in the number of 35.

BUILDING BURNS IN HEIGHT OF STORM

Flames Consume Garage and Woodshed at 419 South Broadway at Midnight

While last night's rain and electrical storm was at its height, flames consumed the barn and garage to the rear of the home of John Erickson, 419 South Broadway.

The alarm was turned in at midnight but the flames had gained such headway that the 27 firemen who answered the alarm were powerless to save the building. The loss was covered by $300 insurance. The start of the fire is undetermined. Fire Chief Frank Fuller discredited the theory that lightning struck the building, there being nothing to indicate such, he said.

A car that was kept in the garage was removed yesterday afternoon when it failed to start and was towed to a downtown garage.

Falls Off Locomotive

"SHEIK'S WIFE"

BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

DESPITE the warnings of her friend, Mary, young and unsophisticated Eve Reade marries Ken Wilmer, well known artist. Eve hopes to become accustomed to the unconventional ways of Ken's artist associates in The Lane. She has a staunch friend in Nory O'Reilly, the author. Ken and Eve spend their honeymoon at Eve's uncle's home. They meet Puss Southwick, who asks permission to visit Ken's studio some time. Ken becomes restless and they return home. In spite of many happy hours, numerous differences arise which Eve tries to overlook. To please Ken, she suggests a housewarming. He is enthused.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXII.

THE PARTY was as unlike the housewarming Eve had planned as Ken's flamboyant sign on the bulletin board was unlike the discarded engraved invitations. But the sign had been more right than the invitations; she acknowledged this to herself with a rueful bit of a smile, now that the party was all over and Ken a bit tipsily had got himself into bed with a pitcher of ice water near at hand.

"Some party!" he kept mumbling, dodging between the words. "Some . . . party. Wasn't it . . . red-head? SOME . . . party . . ."

"Yes, dear," she would answer. And when finally he stopped mumbling she slipped down to the living room and emptied still-smoking ash trays and wiped up a spilled cocktail or two and decided that perhaps the broken back of a rush-bottom chair might be mended and lowered the shades against broad sunlight.

But even after Eve had darkened the bedroom and folded the pillow carefully under her head she could not sleep. The party kept whirling through her thoughts, a wild confusion of noise and color and light with scenes standing out, only to dissolve and form other scenes quite as figures shape themselves in a kaleidoscope.

Ken, tossing the cocktail shaker up and down, his face too red, sleek hair rumpled and falling over his eyes. Ivy Carr's worried, scornful gaze on her husband. Pierre somewhat drunkenly making love to Elma's pretty young sister who did an original and astonishing version of the Charleston on the table after four gin rickys. Chuck Holly broiling "dachs-hunds" at the kitchen range—Eve had ordered these instead of the dinner in the end.

And Fifi Devoe bursting in when the evening was half over, throwing herself at Ken, kissing him on the mouth. Had he held her a minute longer than was necessary?

Fifi had returned from Hollywood only last night and had traced the sounds of revelry to the bungalow. She ignored the fact that the party was a housewarming and ignored Ken's marriage; she would have ignored her hostess except that Eve still held to the Connecticut whimsey of greeting her guests.

"Love Gave Me An Hour" had made the movies Fifi proclaimed to all who cared to listen. It was bought and paid for, which was a good thing for the movie people, but bad for Fifi since she never—no, not ever!—would have allowed her precious story to be touched by the assassins had she dreamed what atrocities they would commit.

A voice said somewhat roughly, "Let me do this—".

all concerned with misfortune after a few of Ken's cocktails. She still wore the soiled middy and the torn blue skirt and Eve could not help wondering if they had been changed during her two months' absence, though of course the middy had been clean when Fifi left for Hollywood.

But Eve's attention was not centered on Fifi for another wanderer returned the night of the party. It was toward morning when the hot dogs had run out, and Eve had gone to the kitchen to make sandwiches of tinned chicken, that there was a rustle at the back door. She was struggling to open a can at the moment and so did not look up until a hand came down over hers, taking both can and opener while a voice said somewhat roughly, "Let me do this."

She was picked up and put down upon the one kitchen chair, while a long, thin figure took her place and a pair of hazel eyes twinkled at her.

"Why, it's you, Nory!" She could not feel surprised; it seemed quite natural somehow to see him there.

"Me, myself, in person. And how's the dryad?"

"Not very dryadish tonight, my dear." Her look turned toward the front of the house and the hubbub that was there.

He cut bread, spread slices with butter and minced chicken, slapped the slices together and cut them in neat diamonds and Eve sat watching him.

"I don't think you're such a good friend after all," she remarked at last. "Where were you anyway, Nory? And why didn't you send me the tiniest happy wish? I expected this from you—missed it—"

He waited a while and answered finally in a grave tone. "You knew you had all my good wishes, Eve. You and Ken. It's

Richard Barthelmess, First National star, has the most dramatic and colorful role of his career in "Son of the Gods," which comes to the Paramount Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. That is the judgment of critics and audiences wherever the picture has been shown. In this screen version of Rex Beach's novel he enacts the role of Sam Lee, an American boy who is raised by a dignified Chinese nobleman and believes himself a Chinaman. The tragic and dramatic situations into which this leads him make what is being generally heralded as the greatest Barthelmess feature since "Tolable David."

"The Light of Western Stars," the first Zane Grey novel to be dramatized on the talking screen by Paramount, will come to the Paramount midnight show tonight and all day Sunday. Heading the cast of screen favorites who will be seen and heard in this romantic melodrama of frontier days are Richard Arlen, Mary Brian, Harry Green, Fred Kohler and Regis Toomey.

This popular Zane Grey story as adapted to the talking screen abounds in lively fast-moving action in which two-fisted daring holds full sway. And to top it off, these venturesome exciting sequences are delightfully blended with broad, full throated easy going humor that is a joy to listen to. And of course, as is the case with all western stories, there is a pleasing love story which, interpreted by Mary Brian and Richard Arlen, is refreshingly gay and sincere and at all times thoroughly believable.

Richard Arlen plays the role of the likable, two-fisted cow-puncher, Dick Bailey. Interpreting his role with evident sincerity, Arlen contributes what is easily his outstanding performance since his memorable characterization in "Wings." And Mary Brian, that charming actress who recently has been seen in several delightful roles, is cast as Ruth Hammond, an eastern girl who comes west to run her brother's ranch which she has inherited. The manner in which the blundering, well meaning cowboy attempts to win her heart, culminating in his desperate and courageous rescue of Ruth from the hands of a gang of outlaws, brings to this picture much exciting and breath-taking moments.

"SHEIK'S WIFE"

BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

DESPITE the warnings of her friend, Mary, young and unsophisticated Eve Reade marries Ken Wilmer, well known artist. Eve hopes to become accustomed to the unconventional ways of Ken's artist associates in The Lane. She has a staunch friend in Nory O'Reil, the author. Ken and Eve spend their honeymoon at Eve's uncle's home. They meet Puss Southwick, who asks permission to visit Ken's studio some time. Ken becomes restless and they return home. In spite of many happy hours, numerous differences arise which Eve tries to overlook. To please Ken, she suggests a housewarming. He is enthused.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXI.

THE PARTY was as unlike the housewarming Eve had planned as Ken's flamboyant sign on the bulletin board was unlike the discarded engraved invitations. But the sign had been more right than the invitations; she acknowledged this to herself with a rueful bit of a smile, now that the party was all over and Ken a bit tipsily had got himself into bed with a pitcher of ice water near at hand.

"Some party!" he kept mumbling, dozing between the words. "Some . . . party. Wasn't it . . . red-head? SOME . . . party . . ."

"Yes, dear," she would answer. And when "finally he stopped mumbling she slipped down to the living room and emptied still-smoking ash trays and wiped up a spilled cocktail or two and decided that perhaps the broken back of a rush-bottom chair might be mended and lowered the shades against broad sunlight.

But even after Eve had darkened the bedroom and folded the pillow carefully under her head she could not sleep. The party kept whirling through her thoughts, a wild confusion of noise and color and light with scenes standing out, only to dissolve and form other scenes quite as figures shape themselves in a kaleidoscope.

Ken, tossing the cocktail shaker up and down, his face too red, sleek hair ruffled and falling over his eyes. Ivy Carr's worried, scornful gaze on her husband. Pierre somewhat drunkenly making love to Elma's pretty young sister who did an original and astonishing version of the Charleston on the table after four gin rickys.

Chuck Holly broiling "dachs-hunds" at the kitchen range—Eve had ordered these instead of the dinner in the end.

And Fifi Devoe bursting in when the evening was half over, throwing herself at Ken, kissing him on the mouth. Had he held her a minute longer than was necessary?

Fifi had returned from Hollywood only last night and had traced the sounds of revelry to the bungalow. She ignored the fact that the party was a housewarming and ignored Ken's marriage; she would have ignored her hostess except that Eve still held to the Connecticut whimsey of greeting her guests.

"Love Gave Me An Hour" had made the movies Fifi proclaimed to all who cared to listen. It was bought and paid for, which was a good thing for the movie people, but bad for Fifi since she never—no, not ever!—would have allowed her precious story to be touched by the assassins had she dreamed what atrocities they would commit.

ST. MATHIAS

Hay Creek Ripples had their Guest Day on May 1 in the basement of the church. All members were present and seven guests. Miss Watz, county nurse, was there and gave a talk enjoyed by all. "America" was sung and the Home Makers creed read. All members answered the roll call by giving a talk on what was learned at the project. A lunch was served. All reported a very good time.

The St. Mathias 4-H club had a meeting at School District No. 13 Friday evening. Nearly all members were present and many of their parents. The president, Leonard Jordan called the meeting to order. The Star Spangled Banner was sung by all. The 4-H motto and pledge was given. Lois Flansburg secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Two joined. Mrs. Claus, their leader, gave them a talk to encourage them in club work. All will work very hard to make it easier for Mrs. Claus, their leader, this year.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Sr., of Barrows called at the home of their son Thursday.

Mrs. Wickman and Irene Perlinger called on Mrs. Martin Taugtes Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reid motored to the Cities Friday.

A number of friends called on Mrs. A. F. Claus Saturday afternoon to help her celebrate her birthday. She received many useful gifts. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess. All had a good time and wished her many more happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Reid and Mr. and Mrs. G. Koering attended a birthday party Thursday evening on Mrs. Walter McCombs in Brainerd.

Mr. and Mrs. John Taugtes, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hellen of Brainerd were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Taugtes.

A large crowd attended the card party in the basement of the church Sunday evening. Mrs. G. Koering won the ladies head prize and Wm. Gravell the men's head prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Jordan and little daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gravell and Esther Bossus were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson of Parkerville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reid and chil-

She was picked up and put down upon the one kitchen chair, while a long, thin figure took her place and a pair of hazel eyes twinkled at her.

"Why, it's you, Nory!" She could not feel surprised; it seemed quite natural somehow to see him there.

"Me, myself, in person. And how's the dryad?"

"Not very dryadish tonight, my dear." Her look turned toward the front of the house and the hubbub that was there.

He cut bread, spread slices with butter and minced chicken, clapped the slices together and cut them in neat diamonds and Eve sat watching him.

"I don't think you're such a good friend after all," she remarked at last. "Where were you anyway, Nory? And why didn't you send me the tiniest happy wish? I expected this from you—missed it—"

He waited a while and answered finally in a grave tone.

"You knew you had all my good wishes, Eve. You and Ken. It's

"It is," she cried, very French all at once with her hands flung up in the way of one casting treasure to the whistling winds, "Zat first zay must make my so lovely bad girl a so stupid good girl. Now my hero must go since the personelle is too protract. So! It is now the plot must rearrange itself and my title—you hear me!—zay call it 'Passion's Pawn'! I ask you!" cried Fifi Devoe with her arms about her head, tears splashing down her cheeks.

Ken's voice, crackling with laughter, cut through her woe.

"Cheer up, kid. Here's something will make you forget it." And Fifi indeed seemed not at all concerned with misfortune after a few of Ken's cocktails.

She still wore the soiled middy and the torn blue skirt and Eve could not help wondering if they had been changed during her two months' absence, though of course the middy had been clean when Fifi left for Hollywood.

But Eve's attention was not centered on Fifi for another wanderer returned the night of the party. It was toward morning when the hot dogs had run out, and Eve had gone to the kitchen to make sandwiches of tinned chicken, that there was a rustle at the back door. She was struggling to open a can at the moment and so did not look up until a hand came down over hers, taking both can and opener while a voice said somewhat roughly, "Let me do this."

things you and the other fellow are not sure of that you put down politely on paper . . . Do you take this grub in there or does the zoo come out?"

As casual as that, Nory was, but comforting to the bride who felt strangely lonely at her housewarming. He said little and laughed not at all, observing the party as if it were interesting, but not quite convincing. He had a way of surveying Eve across the distance of the room, giving her his whimsical smile when she happened to catch his look.

Without Nory, as she told herself now when she was falling asleep at last, it would not have been much of a success—her party . . . Not much of a success without Nory, for her . . .

Richard Barthelmess, First National star, has the most dramatic and colorful role of his career in "Son of the Gods," which comes to the Paramount Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. That is the judgment of critics and audiences wherever the picture has been shown. In this screen version of Rex Beach's novel he enacts the role of Sam Lee, an American boy who is raised by a dignified Chinese nobleman and believes himself a Chinaman. The tragic and dramatic situations into which this leads him make what is being generally heralded as the greatest Barthelmess feature since "To Have and Have Not."

"The Light of Western Stars," the first Zane Grey novel to be dramatized on the talking screen by Paramount, will come to the Paramount midnight show tonight and all day Sunday. Heading the cast of screen favorites who will be seen and heard in this romantic melodrama of frontier days are Richard Arlen, Mary Brian, Harry Green, Fred Kohler and Regis Toomey.

This popular Zane Grey story as adapted to the talking screen abounds in lively fast-moving action in which two-fisted daring holds full sway. And to top it off, these venturesome exciting sequences are delightfully blended with broad, full throated easy going humor that is a joy to listen to. And of course, as is the case with all of western stories, there is a pleasing love story which, interpreted by Mary Brian and Richard Arlen, is refreshingly gay and sincere and at all times thoroughly believable.

Richard Arlen plays the role of the likable, two-fisted cow-puncher, Dick Bailey. Interpreting his role with evident sincerity, Arlen contributes what is easily his outstanding performance since his memorable characterization in "Wings." And Mary Brian, that charming actress who recently has been seen in several delightful roles, is cast as Ruth Hammond, an eastern girl who comes west to run her brother's ranch which she has inherited. The manner in which the budding romance and the cowboy attempts to win her heart, culminating in his desperate and courageous rescue of Ruth from the hands of a gang of outlaws, brings to this picture many exciting and breath-taking moments.
